Welcome to Wealth Beyond Reason!

<http://www.WealthBeyondReason.com>

Do you know what brought you to the “Wealth Beyond Reason” web site?

Now, your answer might be anything from “I found it on a search engine”, or “a friend told me about it”, or any number of other things. The fact is you found it. And although there are many so-called “logical” explanations for the fact that you’re listening to this right now, there is something running at an even deeper level that, if you know about it, will allow you to not only attract whatever wealth you can imagine, but also relationships, jobs, and just plain stuff – and even intangible things like peace of mind..

But until you get a good understanding of what I’m talking about, it all just sounds like new-agey stuff, which you may or may not give any credence to whatsoever. That’s why I’m talking to you now. Because until you understand HOW things flow in and out of your life, you’re not truly living your own life. You’re actually living out a “program” that has been written for you by all kinds of external forces like your parents, friends, co-workers, or any others who have had ANY influence on your decision making process.

Most of us go through life reacting to our circumstances, rather than consciously creating our circumstances. Because of that, some of us think that perhaps we were just “dealt a bad hand”, or that it’s just not our “destiny” to have wealth, or a good marriage, or things along those lines.

What I’m here to tell you is that it’s precisely that kind of thinking that is making those thoughts appear to be true...and you can change those supposed truths simply by changing your thoughts.

I know, you’ve probably heard things like that before. What’s been missing, though, is a good and SATISFYING understanding of why and how that’s true. How do your thoughts (and more accurately, it’s your emotions) determine how your life plays out? To some that just sound like nonsense...and the sad part is, that by taking the stand that it IS nonsense, they have locked themselves into that reality – and despite watching the most successful people in the world implement and teach the same principles that we discuss in the Wealth Beyond Reason program – ultimately launching them to success beyond reason, we hold fast to our beliefs that they are lucky, or more fortunate, or smarter than we are, and that it’s simply the luck of the draw that they are so successful, and that it can never happen to us.

What I say to you is “HEY, SNAP OUT OF IT!”

Look, you don’t have to be a rocket scientist (or a quantum physicist) to understand that we live in a Universe that is governed by all kinds of physical laws. Take gravity for example. We don’t all understand exactly how it works, but we see evidence of it every day. And whether we choose to BELIEVE in gravity or not, that law still holds us fast to the Earth – at least it does for most of us.

And there are several laws like that that run with or without your conscious attention to them. And there is ONE law in particular that absolutely determines every part of your life experience. This law determines whether you live in wealth or poverty. Whether you are stressed out or carefree. It determines the friends you have, and the enemies. The job you have, or don't have.

Without a knowledge and understanding of this law, life just seems to happen chaotically. You just run around REACTING to your environment. What you don't realize is that you're actually at CAUSE for your environment. That's right, your environment – those things that you are reacting to everyday – are a direct result of what YOU are thinking, feeling, and believing. And most of you will argue that it is the other way around. That things happen, and you try to make the best out of what's going on. Some are very good at living life that way. However, some are not.

However, EVERYONE can be very, VERY good at controlling their circumstances, once they fully understand this Universal law, and of course – I'm talking about the Law of Attraction. And despite the fact that this law is has been embraced by a community of folks that most “mainstream” thinkers generally discredit, it makes it no less a physical truth.

Energy attracts Like Energy. This is simply a physically accurate fact. And I like to clarify that by saying that Energy attracts appropriate energy. So what do I mean by that? Well, think about this. People might argue the Law of Attraction by saying something like, “Well, if energy attracts like energy, then why would a man marry a woman who is completely opposite of him? Shouldn't they like the same things, and agree on everything if the law of attraction is true?”

Absolutely not. And there are so many levels to why this is true. But in a nutshell it works like this. Everything on this planet – in this universe – including our thoughts is made up of Energy. Now, if you want to argue this point, you may as well stop listening now, because you're going to reject everything else I have to say. But if you truly don't believe you're made up of Energy, then I would love to know what you DO think you're made up of. Skin and bones? Well, then what's that made up of? Cells? What are those made up of? Uh...Molecules? Molecules of what? You see where I'm going, I'm sure. At our most basic levels, we are Energy. And Energy has specific magnetic properties. Now the details of all of this are discussed at length in the Wealth beyond Reason curriculum, but for now it's sufficient for you to understand that we are basically magnets...and we're attracting things all day long, and at so many different levels that it would be nearly impossible for our brains to comprehend it all.

Now this energy is literally vibrating at different frequencies, and those frequencies determine the magnetic properties of the Energy system that's doing the vibrating.

I know it gets a little mind-boggling as this point, but stay with me, because the secret to Life is just around the corner.

So, if we as human beings are big packets of vibrating energy, attracting various other energies into our experience, WHAT determines what we attract? That's really the key question, isn't it? Because if we understand how to change our personal magnetics, if you will, we could simply CHOOSE what we want to magnetize into our lives, right? RIGHT! And that's the key!! That's really all there is to it!

The Wealth Beyond Reason program is ALL ABOUT how to change our vibrational frequency to match what we want in our lives. You see it's more than just wanting something and even believing on a conscious level that we can have it. Because we have Energy systems running within us that are so old, and so deep in our subconscious, that we have no idea that they are even there. However, uncovering those is KEY, because like it or not, they ARE determining what we can and cannot attract, and therefore experience into our lives.

So let's take the man and woman who are seemingly opposite in so many ways? How did that happen? Well, they most definitely attracted each other. You can't BREAK Universal Law. Energy will always respond in the same way. So although the man might be gruff, what he's "vibrating" is that he wants a woman who is gentle. Perhaps to balance his own personality. Who knows? It's something that is running within his OWN system that he may or may not even be consciously aware of.

Let's apply that to money. You want more money right? But what are you actually "vibrating" about money? You can say, "I want more money", or "I need more money" (which you should never say by the way, and we talk at length about why in the program), but if at a deeper level you have powerful energy systems that are basically saying, "but I'll never get money", or "there isn't enough money", or "I don't deserve more money", or "money is bad", then what happens? You repel money! Essentially, it's simple. What's not so simple is getting some of those belief systems, which are really just energy systems, modified in such a way that your conscious mind is in "alignment" with what's going on at a subconscious level.

But once you do that, there is literally NO LIMIT to what you can do. What I'm telling you is that it's not necessarily true that you have to "work hard" for money. Or that it's a dog-eat-dog world out there. What I AM telling you is that any financial hardship you're experiencing can change as quickly as you can rework the energy systems that have attracted them. You can think as big as you want! The Universe doesn't care! However big you can think, you'll find evidence that the Universe can create far bigger. I mean just look at this planet, and the incredible systems that are in place. And the Law of Attraction is coursing through everything you can see, holding it together in perfect balance.

The wonderful gift of our humanity is that we can make the conscious decision to experience whatever we can imagine. That is WHAT our imagination is for! But over the years, we've just forgotten that. But we CAN remember, and thus unleash a force that would appear to most as something magical, but is actually so incredibly natural.

Listen, you've signed up to look at the sample chapters of the material in our program. But those books are just the beginning. They are the textbooks of a course on Living that will absolutely blow you away. You'll learn to open your mind to a world that has been here the whole time, but has been impossible for you to see.

And you can start right now. You don't have to wait until all the chapters are delivered to you. I mean, WHY WAIT? Listen, I've lived this. I know it to be true, as well as hundreds of others before you who have gotten involved in this ongoing education called "Wealth Beyond Reason". The reason those testimonials posted at the Wealth Beyond Reason web site have active e-mail addresses with them is BECAUSE those people are more than willing to verify or validate everything I'm telling you right now.

I'm inviting you to stop waiting to live your life. You've got my guarantee on the program itself, so you can get started with it right now without any risk. Commit yourself to it. This is not just some Internet product. This is powerful information that you have attracted into your experience. Am I saying that you're "meant" to purchase this program? Of course not. I have no way of knowing that.

However, what I DO know for an absolute fact is that this isn't some kind of cosmic accident. Those simply don't occur. You're listening to me right now for a scientifically specific reason. This lecture has been attracted into your experience. What you do with it is up to you. Personally, I would LOVE to help you start living your life by absolute design. I'm not talking about making things a little better here or there....or helping you get a job that will make the bill paying easier (though that can certainly be a part of it). I'm talking about helping you to create the most exciting vision you can possibly create, and then showing you EXACTLY what to do to bring it into your experience as quickly as possible, starting today.

In closing I will just say this: Whatever you're feeling right now about this program, or anything I've said, says something significant. If you hear all this as a lot of pie-in-the-sky metaphysical rambling, I'd invite you to take a step back and see if your life – your current condition – isn't an EXACT reflection of what you believe or feel at your deepest level. I'm guessing that if you think what I'm saying seems too good to be true, that your life is FILLED with evidence that would support that belief. However, you can find people all over the world whose life is filled with evidence to the contrary – and it's because everyone attracts according to the frequency of their own personal energy systems. It's a perfect system, and particularly exciting because WE can guide that system however we want.

If, however, you're reacting to this information with excitement and curiosity, then you have begun to attract something wonderful into your life. I would urge you to follow those feelings. Really let that excitement grow. Allow yourself to dream and dream big and to create a vision for yourself that defies what you believe to be logical or realistic, because when you do that you literally expand what is realistic for you! You're literally beginning to magnetize what that vision represents!

Listen, where has all the education you have received in your life gotten you? How much time, energy, and money have you spent on receiving that education that has gotten you precisely where you are? I can tell you that whatever investment you make in Wealth Beyond Reason, will be a small fraction of that, and the payoff exponentially bigger!

You ARE worth the investment in yourself to finally have what you've been dreaming of your entire life! You deserve it! Yes, you do! Why do you think those dreams are there? To torture you? No! They are there to lead you into action, and we'll show you exactly how to do that! You're literally just seconds away from a whole new life. A life of purpose, passion, and - yes - wealth – beyond reason.

Thanks for listening, and I'm looking forward meeting you very soon!
